Headline:
Sunny spells with a few showers. Winds easing. Cold.

Today:
A lot of dry weather and spells of hazy sunshine. There will be further showers, especially over north Aberdeenshire, wintry on hills. Strong northwesterly winds easing down by late morning. Feeling rather cold. Becoming wet, windy later this evening. Maximum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Tonight:
Cloudy with persistent rain, heavy at first. This will give way to clear spells and blustery showers later tonight. Strong to gale force westerly then northwesterly winds. Minimum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Friday:
Bright spells and blustery showers during morning. Becoming dull, wet during afternoon with heavy rain and snow on high ground. Windy at first, easing for a time, northerly gales later. Maximum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Bitterly cold Saturday with strong northerly winds and frequent wintry showers. Dry with sunshine and light winds on Sunday but still cold. Cloudy with outbreaks of rain on Monday.
